

Brian W. Amy, MS, MHA, MPH
Biographical Statement

Dr. Brian W. Amy is the State Health Officer for the Mississippi Department of Health. He serves on the Executive Committee of the Association of State and Territorial Health Officials.

Dr. Amy received his Doctorate of Medicine from Louisiana State University School of Medicine in New Orleans. He completed a residency in General Surgery at LSUMC-Charity Hospital in New Orleans and in General Preventative Medicine and Public Health at Tulane Medical Center. He is board certified in General Surgery by the American Board of Surgery and is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He is also board certified by the American Board of Preventative Medicine, with specialty in Public Health and General Preventative Medicine, and is a Fellow of the American College of Preventative Medicine.

He earned a Master of Science degree in Microbiology from the University of Louisiana at Lafayette. He received both a Master of Health Administration degree in Health Systems Management and a Master of Public Health degree in Health Services Research from Tulane University School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine.

Dr. Amy holds faculty positions as Clinical Professor of Medicine and Clinical Professor of Surgery at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine; Adjunct Professor, College of Health, University of Southern Mississippi; and Adjunct Professor, Department of Health Systems Management, Tulane University School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine. His interests, experience and expertise focus on Public Health Policy, Quality Improvement Methodology and Decision Science.